FRIDAY APRIL 29.

The public debt will be decreased some $15,000,000 during the month of April.

The Krely motor, the Grant monument fund, the bright side of Cleveland's civil service reform, and Ignatius Donnelly's Shakespearean cypherscheme, are having a hard time in materializing.

When some one poked up the New York Star to say something on Cleveland's renomination it said, "Sufficient unto the year is the brier before." This is not sparkling enthusiasm considering that it comes from an administration organ.

A monument for Benedict Arnold is now in order. The president would then be invited to attend its unveiling, and if he couldn't go would write a gushing letter, showing that if the traitor "was better understood it would stimulate patriotic enthusiasm."

There is probably a good deal of truth in the remark made recently by a Wall street man, that "railways are not made to carry freight and passengers; their chief purpose is to carry bonds." According to Henry V. Poor, the railroads of this country carry $3,000,000,000 of watered capital.

A company with a capital of seventy-five million dollars will try to carry natural gas from Pennsylvania to Chicago. That is a useless waste of money. Carter Harrison's gas can be bought cheaper than that. But then, Carter's supply cannot be got under control.

Canada is to have a "Jubilee day." A country that is overwhelmed by a debt, and whose resources can never pay running expenses of the government, does not seem to be in a condition to do very much dancing. But probably the Canadians feel like dancing because Canada is no worse than it is. Well, that is pretty good phos-phby.

D. O. Mills, the father-in-law of White-law Reid, of the New York Tribune, has bought a gold mine in Alaska. A gold mine is a very convenient thing to have behind a newspaper.—Chicago Journal.

You but is often convenient to have a newspaper behind a gold mine. A newspaper whose net profits are $200,000 annually, is a pretty good gold mine in itself.

In order to show that Mr. Henry George doesn't practice what he preaches, when he clamors for a division of all kinds of property, the Norristown Herald remarks: George received $75 for an hour's lecture the other night. The janitor received only 75 cents; but Mr. George didn't offer to divide with him.

There are millionaires as well as millionaires nowadays. The richest of New York men is Mrs. Hetty Green, rated at $30,000,000. Next comes Mr. Mark Hopkins, estimated all the way from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000. Mr. Terry is worth $25,000,000. Mrs. John Jacob Astor $8,000,000. Mrs. Thomas A. Scott $5,000,000. Mrs. Joseph Harrison, the same. Mrs. Edwin Stevens, $15,000,000, and the widow of Mrs. Ayer and Jayne, the patent medicine man, from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 each.

Ex-Governor Bishop, of Ohio, who was appointed by Governor Foraker a member of the commission having charge of the erection of a monument to the memory of William Henry Harrison showed himself a nill man by writing an impudent letter declining to serve. He must have felt not only small but very cheap on reading the following answer to his letter:

April 25, 1887.—The Hon. L. D. BISCUIT, CINCINNATI, O.—Dear Sir: I write to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch and to thank you for the same. Had I known you I would not have troubled you with the appointment. Very truly yours, J. B. FORAKER.

In a few days the will of Alexander Mitchell will be probated. Very little is known in regard to the disposition of his millions; but the bequests to charitable and educational institutions are as follows:

Milwaukee Protestant Orphan Asylum $10,000. Milwaukee Hospital $10,000. Milwaukee Hospital (Catholic)..... 5,000. St. Mary's Hospital (Catholic)..... 5,000. Young Men's Christian Association..... 10,000. Milwaukee Normal School..... 5,000. Racine college..... 5,000.

This foots up only $50,000, but it was as much as could be expected, as Mr. Mitchell was not a philanthropist, although he had done much in a public way for Milwaukee.

Mr. U. L. D. Fuller, an attorney of Plymouth, has sued his father-in-law, John Meynard, Emily E. Giddon, a sister-in-law, and Elvira Crockett, for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, claiming damages to the amount of $20,000. This is more than the average damage for such an alienation. Burdette tells of a man who began suit for the theft of his wife's affection, and put the damage at $500. His lawyer said to him, "Jones ain't that a little too high?" "Well," said Jones "look it two hundred and fifty, I don't want to be mean about it."

To Dislodge the Enemy.

When it takes the form of disease of the kidneys or bladder, a task well nigh impossible of accomplishment. Renal and vesical maladies are more obstinate and less amenable to treatment, therefore, the earliest indication of trouble is of the many organs with Hooton's Stomach Bitters, which possesses among other excellent qualities, those of an efficient diuretic. The degree of stimulation apparent from its use reaches, but never goes beyond, the bounds of safety. It invigorates, relaxes, irritates, &c., the kidneys and bladder, successfully combating their inactivity with the benign medicinal stimulant and tonic. Besides reinforcing and regulating the kidneys and bladder, the Bitters are a specific for fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia.

All the returns from the Michigan state election have been officially canvassed except those from Manitowoc, which have been sent for. They show 178,500 for the prohibitory amendment, and about 154,500 against. It is thought that the majority against the amendment will be close to 6,000. The proposition to increase the salary of the governor from $1,000 to $5,000, was defeated by a majority of 30,000. The republican supreme judges were elected by majorities ranging from 30,000 to 32,000. Had the prohibitionists left out of the campaign their bitterness and their third ticket, the prohibition amendment would have been carried by a large majority.

The variety of the reports from Washington regarding Mr. Cleveland's candi-cy for a second term are thus illustrated by the New York Tribune:

1st. A trustworthy report from Washington says that President Cleveland will not accept a renomination.

2d. A trustworthy report from Washington says that the report that President Cleveland will not accept a renomination is untrustworthy.

3d. A trustworthy report from Washington says that no dependence is to be placed on the report denying the report that President Cleveland will not accept a renomination.

4th. A trustworthy report from Washington denies the last report.

It has been suggested that if the women of Michigan had more influence over their husbands, the prohibition amendment would have been carried, and now the discussion has turned upon the important question of how women can control their husbands. The Gazette takes the liberty of making the suggestion that those engaged in the discussion should be more considerate of the feelings of the house and their wives or lady friends. These festivities were to influence the votes of these members in the matter of the Saginaw charter. What was not spent on the feast was to be used on others, with whom he would go out at night. When asked if he thought he could purchase members for such amounts as he checked off on the list, he said:

"No, I think they are higher-priced than that," which caused the greatest sensation of the afternoon.

"Do you mean to say that they could be bought at all?"

"No, certainly not."

"Have you heard of such entertainments as you proposed being given this winter?"

"Yes, Hubbell gave one at the Lansing house, and the one I was to give was like that, only I did not do so elaborate a entertainment." The question submitted to me was kindly this: "Whether at the commencement of or at any time during the alleged settlement of Miller and before the selection made by the railroad company, the two referees were ever called to a meeting of the board—more particularly this?"

"I will tell you what a simple proposition of law, I referred it to three of my associates, viz.: Solicitor General Jenkins, Assistant Attorney General Maury and Mr. Henratty, the law clerk of the department. All three of them told me that it was perfectly in connection with the secretary of the interior had put this question: 'And if you find that it was not, is there any equitable way in which the two referees could be paid?' and Miller said, 'I am not my own master,' and I said, 'I am not your master either.'"

"Then I told him that I talked with the president of the Union Pacific railroad for three years; he knew almost nothing of its history, but he was very familiar with its organization. He said, 'I am sorry that I cannot support this bill, but—' At that moment his wife bent over the gallery rail and exclaimed in a loud voice, 'W-i-t-b-a-r!' He glanced upward, then turned and said: 'Mr. Speaker, I vote aye.'

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY INQUIRY.

President Adams Begins to Tell the Commissioners What He Knows.

New York, April 29.—The Pacific rail-road investigation was resumed Thursday.

Ex-Governor Patterson presided, and Commissioner Anderson acted as inquisitor.

Charles Francis Adams was the first witness.

He said he had been president of the Union Pacific railroad for three years; he knew almost nothing of its history, but he was very familiar with its organization.

Decidedly the handsomest one of the lots is the open air Superintendent Alwood wood he just received from St. Louis. It is finished in walnut and ash, with heavy brass mountings, and will accommodate thirty-six passengers. The arrangement is much like that of a railroad car, there being room for two passengers on each seat. As soon as possible the new car will be started on regular trips to the trains and the cemetery.

Yesterday afternoon a man named Lowry hailing from Madison, while assisting in removing heavy circus wagons from "winter quarters" at Burr Ridge's Spruce Brook Farm, had his hands drawn into the tackle blocks, and badly mangled. His right hand fared the worse, the thumb being terribly torn. The other hand escaping with only the burns caused by his clinging to the rope as he was pulled into the tackle blocks. His injuries were attended to by Dr. J. P. Whiting, Jr.

When Mr. William Cannon started for California last December, his truck was carried to the depot tied to a small blockade. The first day after his arrival he was received from St. Louis Mr. Cannon went to look up his baggage. Good authorities claim that his laugh could be heard half way to Salt Lake City, for there was the truck, right side up with ears and underneath was that same little hand sled. No one had thought to notice it and Mr. Cannon had reached California with an outfit that looked as though intended for Alaska.

After laying track south on Jackson street to Pleasant, and west on Pleasant to Cherry the street railway men are awaiting further instructions. Property owners along Cherry street want the line to be kept off from that thoroughfare and extended along Locust street. On Cherry the sidewalks and lots have been pushed forward until the center line of the street is very near the gutter. The road would therefore cause considerable trouble and until President Clark arrives from Chicago nothing more will be done. Mr. Clark has written, however, that the change would cause a great deal of delay and expense and would hardly be advisable.

Mr. W. B. Stoddard may have "a corner" on oil, but he would be much better off to-day and free from pain, had he "a corner" on his team last evening. It seems that Mr. Stoddard drove into his residence of the Rev. Dr. M. G. Dodge, of the Baptist church, Mr. Arthur A. Ott and Miss Mary A. Yabba were made husband and wife, Miss Mary Donnelly being the bridegroom and Mr. Con. C. Ryan acting as groomsmen. Mr. Ott is a young man well known in this city. He is engaged in the harness business with his father on North Main street, and is one of our industrious and lively young men. He is also a member of the fire department being attached to Engine Co. No. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Ott will continue to make their home in Janesville, and their many friends will wish them a long and happy future.

AT THE WRONG DOOR.

The Thrift and Embarrassments of a Newspaper Reporter.

The experiences of reporters are varied and perplexing. He must materialize at all social gatherings, church festivals, weddings and funerals, and is supposed to be on the watch that his paper may announce in its next issue the arrival of every newborn babe. He must be alert at all times, day or night. When he starts out after an item he gets it or something breaks. This was illustrated with Beloit last season, as it was between the two best clubs in the league. The champions were downed in both their games with Beloit last season, and as we have the same battery and the better part of the old nine; while our opponents are, if anything, stronger, the contest will be a very close and exciting one.

It is understood that sometime in the near future, a Science Hall will rise breathlessly, the outcome of to-morrow's baseball match with the state university nine. This is one of the most important games of the series, as it is between the two best clubs in the league. The present alleged Science Hall is certainly a travesty on the name. A ball game was arranged with the Evansville nine for last Saturday, but it did not come off, owing to the weather.

Fred N. Norcross, of the present graduating class, will manage the mechanics part of the Janesville electric light plant for the coming year, after which he expects to study law. He will be missed here both in college and society.

An Inter-Collegiate Tennis Association has just been formed.
